dions now in progress draw to their inexorable and inevitable conclusion—"would bring punishment to those responsible.

Japan did not say how many American fliers it had put to death, but informed this government through Swiss channels that it had tried those captured and sentenced to death. The sentence was commuted for the "larger number" of them, the note added, but was carried out on the others.

Eight Men Listed

Of the 80 officers and men who flew to Japan with Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle last April, the war department listed eight as prisoners or presumed prisoners of the Japanese and two as missing.

The White House released the news of the executions in the form of a statement by the president, received from a stop on his war camp inspection journey at Corpus Christi, Tex., and a 1,000 word note of protest from the state department.

The state department declared: "The government of the United States brands as false the charge that American aviators intentionally have attacked non-combatants anywhere."

"If the admissions alleged by the Japanese government to have been made by the American aviators were in fact made, they could only have been extorted fabrications."

In announcing the news, Roosevelt said he did so with a feeling of deepest sorrow which he knew would be shared by all civilized peoples.

"This recourse by our enemies to frightfulness is barbarous," he asserted. "The effort of the Japanese war lords thus in intimidate us will utterly fail. It will make the American people more determined than ever to blot out the shameful militarism of Japan."

The president's statement, issued at the White House, was supplemented by the state department. Together, the statements disclosed that:

The American government initiated inquiries through the Swiss government immediately after Tokyo's radio broadcast, last Oct. 19, that military trials and punishment had been given the eight Americans.

Reply Received March 12

It was not until Feb. 17, however, that the Japanese government replied. The reply, received in Washington on March 12, acknowledged that the Americans had been tried, sentenced to death, and that, as the state department phrased it, "following commutation of the sentence for the larger number of them, the sentence of death was applied to certain of the accused."

The Japanese accusation was that the fliers had bombed non-military targets and shot civilians, and they told the Swiss minister in Tokyo that these acts were admitted.

Names of Victims Unknown

They declined, however, to say which men had been executed or what disposition had been made of their bodies. Thus, the American government was left with no details and not knowing which of the following eight men, missing after the Tokyo raid and presumed prisoners, were the victims of this Japanese terrorism:

First Lt. William Glover Farrow of Washington, D. C.

First Lt. Robert L. Hite of Earth, Tex.

First Lt. Robert J. Heder of Lakewood, Ohio.

First Lt. Chase J. Nielson of Hyrum, Utah.

First Lt. Dean E. Hallmark of Dallas, Tex.

Second Lt. George Barr of Madison, Wis.

Sergt. Harold A. Spatz of Lebo, Kas.

Corp. Jacob D. Deshazer of Madras, Ore.

Obligations Violated

The state department's reply, given the Swiss to convey to Tokyo, recalled the obligations Japan has assumed regarding treatment of military prisoners; the promise that the protecting power (the Swiss) must be given three weeks' notice before a prisoner is tried, that a representative of the protecting power must be allowed to be present—all the other provisions of conventions concerning treatment of prisoners.

"The Japanese government has not complied with any," it observed.

As for the accusation against the prisoners, the state department said the American forces had instructions to attack only military objectives and it is known they did not deviate from these orders.

The state department branded as false the charge that American aviators intentionally attacked non-combatants and called attention to "brutal and bestial methods" used by the Japs to gain confessions from persons in their power. The state department said that if the American fliers made the admissions claimed, the confessions were obtained by torture.

After calling on Tokyo to abide by its agreements, the communications closed with its promise of punishment which left no doubt this country expects, soon or late, to be able to mete it out. "As military operations now in progress draw to their inexorable and inevitable conclusion," it said, "the American government will visit upon the officers of the Japanese government responsible for such uncivilized and inhumane acts the punishment they deserve."

They'll Do It Every Time

Text of Statement

The text of President Roosevelt's statement on the executions follows:

"It is with a feeling of deepest horror, which I know will be shared with all civilized peoples, that I have to announce the barbarous execution by the Japanese government of some of the members of this country's armed forces who fell into Japanese hands as an incident of warfare."

"The press had just carried the details of the American bombing of Japan a year ago. The crews of two of the American bombers were captured by the Japanese."

Executions Verified

"On Oct. 19, 1942, this government learned from Japanese radio broadcasts of the capture, trial, and severe punishment of those Americans. Continued endeavor was made to obtain confirmation of those reports from Tokyo."

"It was not until March 12, 1943, that the American government received the communication given by the Japanese government stating that these Americans had in fact been tried and the death penalty had been pronounced against them. It was further stated that the death penalty was commuted for some, but that the sentence of death had been applied to others."

Intimidation Will Fail

"This government has vigorously condemned this act of barbarity in a formal communication sent to the Japanese government. In that communication this government has informed the Japanese government that the American government will hold personally and officially responsible for these diabolical crimes all of those officers of the Japanese government who have participated therein and will in due course bring those officers to justice."

"This recourse by our enemies to frightfulness is barbarous. The effort of the Japanese war lords to intimidate us will utterly fail. It will make the American people more determined than ever to blot out the shameful militarism of Japan."

"I have instructed the department of state to make public the text of our communication to the Japanese government."

TEXT OF PROTEST

Washington, D. C., April 22—(AP)—The text of the state department's statement under date of April 12, 1943, on the execution of some of the American fliers who raided Japan follows:

"Text of the United States reply to the Japanese government, April 12, 1943:

"The government of the United States has received the reply of the Japanese government conveyed under date of Feb. 17, 1943, to the Swiss minister at Tokyo to the inquiry made by the minister on behalf of the government of the United States concerning the correctness of reports broadcast by Japanese radio stations that the Japanese authorities intended to try before military tribunals American prisoners of war, for military operations, and to impose upon them severe penalties, including even the death penalty."

"The Japanese government states that it has tried the members of the crews of American planes who fell into Japanese hands after the raid on Japan on April 18 last, that they were sentenced to death, and that, following commutation of the sentence for the larger number of them, the sentence of death was applied to certain of the accused."

Charges Called False

"The government of the United States has subsequently been informed of the refusal of the Japanese government to treat the remaining American aviators as prisoners of war, to divulge their names, to state the sentences imposed upon them, or to permit visits to them by the Swiss minister as representative of the protecting power for American interests."

leges that it has subjected the American aviators to this treatment because they intentionally bombed nonmilitary installations and deliberately fired on civilians, and that the aviators admitted these acts.

Bestial Methods Employed

"The government of the United States informs the Japanese government that instructions to American armed forces have always ordered those forces to direct their attacks upon military objectives. The American forces participating in the attack upon Japan had such instructions and it is known that they did not deviate therefrom. The government of the United States brands as false the charge that American aviators intentionally have attacked non-combatants anywhere."

"With regard to the allegation of the Japanese government that the American aviators admitted the acts of which the Japanese government accuses them, there are numerous known instances in which Japanese official agencies have employed brutal and bestial methods in extorting alleged confessions from persons in their power. It is customary for those agencies to use statements obtained under torture, or alleged statements, in proceedings against the victims."

"Moreover, the Japanese government entered into a solemn obligation by agreement with the government of the United States to observe the terms of the Geneva prisoners of war convention. Article I of that convention provides for treatment as prisoners of war of members of armies and of persons captured in the course of military operations at sea or in the air."

Entitled to Counsel

Article 60 provides that upon the opening of a judicial proceeding directed against a prisoner of war, the representative of the protecting power shall be given notice thereof at least three weeks prior to the trial and of the names and charges against the prisoners who are to be tried. Article 61 provides that no prisoner may be obliged to admit himself guilty of the act of which he is accused."

"Article 2 provides that the accused shall have the assistance of qualified counsel of his choice and that a representative of the protecting power shall be permitted to attend the trial. Article 65 provides that sentence pronounced against the prisoners shall be communicated to the protecting power immediately. Article 66 provides, in the event that the death penalty is pronounced, that the details as to the nature and circumstances of the offense shall be communicated to the protecting power, for transmission to the power in whose forces the prisoner served, and that the sentence shall not be executed before the expiration of a period of at least three months after such communication. The Japanese government has not complied with any of these provisions in its treatment of the captured American aviators."

Asks Adherence to Law

"The government of the United States calls again upon the Japanese government to carry out its agreement to observe the provisions of the convention by communicating to the Swiss minister at Tokyo the charges and sentences imposed upon the American aviators, by permitting the Swiss representatives to visit those now held in prison, by restoring to those aviators the full rights to which they are entitled under the prisoners of war convention, and by informing the minister of the names and disposition or place of burial of the bodies of any of the aviators against whom sentence of death has been carried out."

"If, as would appear from its communication under reference, the Japanese government has descended to such acts of barbarity and manifestations of depravity as to murder in cold blood uniformed members of the American armed forces made prisoners as an incident of warfare, the American government will hold personally and officially responsible for those deliberate crimes, all of those officers of the Japanese government who have participated in their commitment and will in due course bring those officers to justice."

"The American government also solemnly warns the Japanese government that for any other violations of its undertakings as regards American prisoners of war or for any other acts of criminal barbarity inflicted upon American prisoners in violation of the rules of warfare accepted and practiced by civilized nations as military operations now in progress draw to their inexorable and inevitable conclusion, the American government will visit upon the officers of the Japanese government responsible for such uncivilized and inhumane acts the punishment they deserve."

Record

A South Pacific Base, April 22—(AP)—First Lieut. J. E. Swett, Marine Corps pilot of Seattle, Wash., shot down seven Japanese dive-bombers—a record for this war for one pilot in a single air action—during the heavy enemy attack April 7 on the Guadalcanal-Tulagi-Savo island area.

This was disclosed in official reports released today by the headquarters of Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., commander-in-chief of U. S. naval forces in the South Pacific.

Mrs. Dorothy Bryan, first aid instructor at Woosung, has an unusual group for her first class. They range in ages from Darlene Butterbaugh and Mary Houck, high school students to Mrs. William Tyne who is in her "seventies." Also, in her class she has a mother and three daughters, Mrs. Harvey Butterbaugh and Velda, Marian and Darlene.

TIP FOR TIPS

Here's a tip to waitresses! The Palmyra Grange men served a fish supper to their ladies last week. They were in waitress and chef costumes complete with head gear and aprons and the service was excellent. So also was the fish! The ladies had eaten far beyond the caloric count when the head waiter announced that in any "swanky" eating place such food and such service were always followed by an ample tip. So the women came forth with tips—not just nickels and dimes but real money—enough to pay for all the food and put three dollars in the treasury.

And while the men did all the work the women were making three shock blankets 54x80 inches for the Red Cross. Mrs. William Castle donated two pieced tops and Mrs. Barton Lutz gave one top and one inner lining. Mrs. Clarence Lenox donated the other two inner linings and Mrs. Earnard Behrens furnished all three outer linings.

The mystery of the evening—where did John Lennox find those long stockings??

Then there was the little girl in Dixon—her mother was making extra preparations to entertain a group of ladies and her daddy caught in the flurry said "I hope those old hens will be satisfied with all this."

Whereupon the little two-year-old suggested, "Better eat those old hens."

A Thought for Today

Let us search and try our ways, and

God shall be my hope, my stay, my guide and lantern to my feet.—Shakespeare.

Why Not Incentive Prices?

If the war demands it, Americans will not hesitate to push their national debt up to 300 billions, or perhaps even higher. When danger threatens,
people do not stop to count money. They simply dish it out.

However, there is somewhere a practical limit beyond which the debt should not be permitted to go. There is a debt limit within which the war can be won. Subterfuges will not help.

Some in the administration have tried to have their cake and eat it, too, with regard to the so-called farm problem. It is desired that farmers should get enough for their crops to show a reasonable advance at the end of each year. But to permit them to do business at a profit and show a reasonable advance at the end of each year. But to permit an advance in the price of groceries would be inflationary. If groceries go up, then many people—particularly the white-collared ones
—will have to have higher salaries.

So one of the plans coming out of Washington is to hold the price of groceries substantially where they are, but to increase the farmer's income by giving him what are euphemistically called "incentive payments." In other words, the people would either have to buy more bonds or pay heavier taxes in order to provide the money necessary for "incentive payments." In either case the money would come out of the pockets of the taxpayers.

With regard to the so-called farm problem, the administration never has exercised the courage to take a realistic view. It has continually called things by wrong names. It has depended upon sub-terfuges and dodges. If the farmers are entitled to more money, then let us give them incentive prices instead of incentive payments. Why the administration should expect the present generation's grandchildren to pay today's farm prices is a mystery that can be explained only by the proximity of a try for a fourth term.

There is a practical limit beyond which the national debt should not be permitted to go, and to pay incentive prices in order to cover up the cost of farm operation will not help the government to establish a limit and stick to it.

In serving a course dinner never try to make both ends meet.

Voluntary Approach

Organized Labor and National Association of Manufacturers are opposed to the Austin-Wadsworth bill to establish an industrial draft. Their opposition is not superficial. It goes to the very heart of the proposal, and is based upon bitter opposition to any labor conscription legislation.

Secretary Timson, Assistant Secretary Paterson of the War Department and Maritime Commission Chairman Land are strongly for the measure.
So are 45 state Selective Service heads who testified before a congressional committee. Manpower Commissioner McNutt was for it until President Roosevelt asked that, before adopting such a law,
we try the "voluntary" approach.

The fact is that we have long since discarded the "voluntary" approach. Whether or not free-will could have been made to work, it was not. We have been operating for some time under compulsion based upon a law. Unfortunately—and this is the real case for the Austin-Wadsworth bill, with or without modification in detail—we have been trying to enforce a labor draft illegally by perverting
a law that was not meant for the purpose.

This has been clear time after time. It is emphasized by the WMC order that men in the 38-45-
year-old group must transfer from non-deferrable
jobs by a fixed date or face drafting for combat service. This, in turn, is clarified by the terms on which the Army will release men over 38 who already have been drafted.

Such men must accompany their request for release by a statement from some responsible outsider that they will be employed in essential industry or agriculture. Their request is passed upon not by their own draft board, but by that in the area where, if released, they propose to work.
If the request is granted they are not discharged,
but are put into the enlisted reserve, so that if they should dare leave the essential job they could be recalled immediately, without red tape, to fighting service.

Thus far all fathers are specifically deferred—
and all but those who decline to leave non-deferrable work and go into a deferrable classification. They, regardless of age (up to 45) and regardless of dependency, are to be put into 1A and, if they can get into and out of examination rooms without limp-ing, can be called into fighting service.

Definitely we are not using the "voluntary" approach. The administration is clubbing men into going to work where it wants them to work. Why then, not be frank and honest about it, and have a law applying impartially to all?

Leave Transit

Public opinion in Sweden is rising against the policy of permitting German soldiers, on leave, to pass through on their way between Norway and the Reich. The policy has been condemned at a mass meeting, both as a military menace to Sweden and also as an unfriendly act toward "our defeated but uncrowned brother people," the Norwegians.

London papers recently carried stern and probably inspired editorials warning Sweden how the British feel about this "leave permit" practice.

The Swedes, who have been in a most dangerous position—at Hitler's mercy but sympathetic to the United Nations—may feel that they can afford now to be a little more independent. If they do, the leave permits might provide a starting point.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON (Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

Washington.—The government seems to be disagreeing with its-self about our food prospects.

Figures in the Office of War Information disagree somewhat with the agriculture department, and even among themselves, as to whether the picture is black or dark brown, or whether 3, 6, or 8 percent represents the proper estimate of production increases
or declines.

Outside the muddled government, there are farm experts from whom a less confusing picture may be obtained. Obviously, it is no sense for anyone at spring planting time to try to reduce crop expectations to slimly varying percentages. Too much depends on the weather. The crops will vary 10 to 20 percent on that one factor alone.

But clear enough is the fact that the time for panicky expectations has passed. The outlook has changed completely in the past three weeks.

Developments in Victory Gardens, farm labor, spring planting and machinery justify a sound expectation that—given normal weather—we will harvest about the same amount of food as last year or little less. A warm, moist spring, and we will do even better than that.

The country has been frightened into action. Arrangements have just been completed to bring possibly 6,000 Bahamians into Florida, and perhaps 60,000 Mexicans into California and the mid-west, to relieve the labor shortage. These are skilled farm laborers, not the roustabouts and bar-fliers that this government's FSA dug up in Mexico in small quantities last year.

No one seems to want the concentrated Japs except Mr. Ickes, and some of the open space farmers in the far west. It is clear now they should have been left on their small farms in California and along the coast where they were producing something and where their machinery is now piled high
and largely unused—and made to work there under full police protection to the community.

But strangely enough, American farmers are now returning from high-paid war industries to spring planting in unexpected numbers.
One Iowa arsenal reported 16 gone back to farming one day last week, 10 men the next day.

Apparently, these men merely left the farm for the winter and always intended to go back when there was work to be done.

Estimates of livestock on hand justify expectations of somewhat normal production. Poultry production has been expanded more than 70 percent.

While many cattle have been slaughtered, they were for the most part deficient milk producers. Sold dairy herds are mostly in the hands of other farmers.

So many pigs were bred last fall that many authorities suspected there were too many to be fed.

No reports of restricted spring planting on a national scale are suggested in statistics. Feed and fertilizers are short, but farmers are cooperating among themselves
on machinery and gasoline.

Above all, the average citizen
has been so thoroughly awakened
to the danger that Victory Gardens are being planted on an unbelievable scale. Vacant lots next door to city apartment houses are being utilized. Seed stores are sold out. Even golf clubs around here are donating small plots to neighbors.

Obviously, this production—
which no government official has estimated or can estimate—will not only relieve a considerable part of the summer demand, but will cut down on transportation burdens, and provide much canning for winter.

Certainly here is more proof of the never-ending truth that the American people, when aroused,
can function on their own initiative without government help or direction, to accomplish miracles.

Against this set of favorable circumstances, however, is the unes-timated and inestimable factor of weather.

The late spring cold wave froze some vegetable plantings and fruits in the south and caused pessimistic rumors that the apple and fruit crop in Maryland and upper New York state will be severely damaged. Certainly planting has been delayed
throughout the east.

A three-inch snow fall recently in Illinois has created some doubt about early oats. The arid regions of the Dakotas, however,
have exceptional soil moisture
conditions which make their wheat prospect hopeful.

But the weather of the next 60 days will determine the extent of the yield, and the extent of the food pinch in percentages will not be guessed now. All in all, the late spring is not conducive to expectations of bumper yields,
and has shortened the growing

Court Decision May Force Big Insurance Firms to Pay State

Chicago, April 22.—(AP)—Insurance agents working on a commission basis in Illinois for the New York Life Insurance Co., from 1937 to 1941 have been declared employees of the company
and for that period were subject to the Illinois unemployment compensation act, according to Circuit Judge Michael Feinberg.

The act was passed in 1937 and was amended in July, 1941, specifically to exclude agents on a commission basis. The Circuit court ruling yesterday covered the period before the act was amended. If upheld, Assistant Attorney General Joe A. Pearce said, the decision would compel payment of possibly $1,500,000 in to the state unemployment compensation fund by the several insurance companies doing business in Illinois.

take to corroborate them. The name and location of the camp I cannot mention lest I violate hospitality but my host of the occasion has said he does not object to a discussion of the shocking waste of fine food which we saw there. There were, I should say,
about 200 soldiers in the mess,
served by waiters who were enlisted men, and the meal consisted of pot roast, string beans, creamed peas, mashed potatoes, cole-slau,
milk, coffee and coconut custard pudding. There was much more than plenty for all hands, most of whom had high-power appetites
and each man had about a quart of milk. My young friends at the table said they often had steaks and that they had seen some waste of excellent beef in a section of the country where the civilians found it almost impossible to get any and where the little they could get was scrawny, stringy, juiceless meat with no more flavor than a boiled bath-
mat. However, such waste of steak consisted mainly of plate-leavings which is to say that no
whole steaks were thrown away untouched and possibly this is an unavoidable loss although civilian authorities have been raising quite a fuss with restaurants for over-serving and with the guests
themselves for failure to eat everything set before them and demanding smaller portions.

There were considerable leavings on the plates of the soldiers in this mess on this occasion which my host said was typical but that was a trivial waste by comparison with the wanton destruction which occurred as the waiters advanced along the aisle
between the two rows of tables
after the meal, dumping huge quantities of untouched food from the serving bowls into garbage cans which they shoved along before them. On each table there were two or three large bowls at least half full of mashed potatoes above and beyond requirements of the diners, all made with rich
milk and first-class butter and all that was thrown into the cans
along with large quantities of string beans, creamed peas, slaw and custard and many stacks of a dozen or so slices of fine white bread which surely was not contaminated and would not have spilled if returned to the bread box for the next meal. The only meat that I saw thrown away was that which was left on the plates,
the surplus on the platters apparently being returned to the kitchen possibly to be made into hash, although I am not sure it was so used. I just observed that it was not heaved into the garbage along with the other untouched food which would have fed

a considerable number of civilians
without depriving the soldiers.

The soldiers, themselves, were conscious of this waste and deplored it although not, of course,
to the extent of complaining for,
after all, the camp management was none of their business and suggestions might have been resented by their officers. They said, moreover, that they had seen similar waste on other posts
and that the only effort at conservation which they had observed had been a rule in one place which required each man to help himself to no more than he could eat.
If he left food on his plate he invited a mild form of punishment.

The noncom in command of the preparation and serving of the meals said that all opened but unfinished bottles of milk were emptied into containers. This milk was used for cooking but that, and the surplus beef and the butter
seemed to be the only salvage.
The rest of the overset food was gathered at a central point with the garbage from other messes on the post and carried away by a contractor to be fed to the pigs on neighboring farms. Great pitchers of coffee were poured away.

There may have been a few absentees from this meal but if so they were not enough to justify the Army excuse recently heard that waste is caused by the practice of cooking for the full strength of a command rather than for the number actually on hand. It was a flagrant case of reckless mismanagement and in a region where the army's food
comes off the top of the whole
regional supply and comes off
first, leaving the civilians to shop
for and worry over a very insufficient remainder.

I am sorry not to be able to identify the post and unit but perhaps it will be just as well if each command which is throwing to the swine good food which civilians are doing without will take this description and criticism to itself and act accordingly.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to the many fine neighbors who so generously gave of their time in plowing our farm land this week. It was indeed a pleasant surprise to see 12 tractors drive into our yard on Wednesday. Both Mr. Untz, who has been recovering from a broken leg, and myself say, "Thank you from the bottom of our hearts."

MONTADORES

CHAPTER XVI

HIS fever had once more miraculously disappeared during the night. Barry woke to the golden fragrance of a tropic morning feeling weak but clear-headed. He lay listening to the loud chatter of macaws, parrots
and the thousand and one varieties of birds that flashed their bright hues about the estancia.

"Good morning, lazy bones!"
Allison was in his doorway.
There was a bright light of eagerness in her as she carried in his tray, laughter in her voice.
She spread his napkin for him and touched her small hand lightly to his forehead.

"You're fine," she said with malicious joy. "No excuse for not coming out and helping initiate my zoot caps."

"What are you talking about?"
Barry frowned as he drank his pineapple juice. She stood beside him laughing, her golden hair shaped aureole about her heart-ragged face whose whiteness had now disappeared under a honey tan.

"Meet me out in the clearing
and you'll see," she taunted.
Barry drank his coffee and ate the two eggs with relish this morning. He felt stronger than he had for a long time and a surge of fresh hope went through him.
Maybe he had thrown the fever for a real loss this time. He got up and put on the clothes laid out for him and went out of the estancia.

It was a large thatched house
on stilts with a broad veranda,
from which could be seen the half dozen smaller shacks of the chicleros and the wide clearing that surrounded the massed estancias.
On every side crouched the vibrant green lush jungle waiting to devour the puny resistance of man's efforts against it.

Barry made his way unsteadily
down the broad steps of the estancia and crossed the sun-washed, muddy clearing toward the boiling kettles. Allison sauntered to meet him.

"The Montadores came in this morning," she reported breathlessly.

"Montadores?" Barry puzzled.

HER eyes twinkled with mischief. "Montadores are our chief scouts, tenderfoot."

"Yes, my calloused chiclero," Barry retorted meekly.

"You see," she explained. "It's

THIRTEENTH DISTRICT OF ILLINOIS WOMEN'S CLUBS HOLDS ANNUAL CONVENTION IN AMBOY APRIL 29

The forty-fifth annual convention of the Thirteenth District of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in Amboy in the First Congregational church Thursday, April 29, with Mrs. D. C. Thompson, district president, presiding. There will be three sessions of the convention—morning, afternoon, and evening; also, for board members, the pre-convention meeting, beginning at 9 o'clock, and the post-convention meeting, following the afternoon session. Following the afternoon session, tea will be served, and the district Art and Publicity Scrapbook contest entries will be on exhibit. The banquet will be served at 6:30.

The program promises to be outstanding. Since the primary interest and work of the federated clubs are war service, and post-war reconstruction, these will be the predominating topics throughout the meetings. Guest speakers will be: Mrs. William T. Bruckner, National Federation Director; Mrs. Preston L. Wettaw, state president, I. F. W. C.; Mrs. Walter M. Rennie, president of Third District.

Mrs. Bruckner, who preceded Mrs. Wettaw as president of the State Federation, is director for Illinois on the General Federation Board, and was selected to serve as dean of directors on that body. She is also state chairman for War Service, and in that capacity has made the State War Service Department one of the very best in the nation in efficient organizations and in accomplishments. In recognition of her work for the past two years the state board, at its March meeting, presented Mrs. Bruckner with the General Federation War Service pin.

Mrs. Wettaw, who addressed the evening session, while in Washington, D. C., in the interests of federated work, was one of a group shown special honor by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt at the White House. Many club women in the district who had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Wettaw last fall, when Mrs. Thompson took her on tour to speak at the six county conventions, will appreciate this opportunity to renew acquaintance; others will welcome the chance to become acquainted with her. Mrs. Wettaw's home is at Eldorado, in southern Illinois.

Mrs. Rennie of Chicago, is one of three candidates for the office of state president, to be chosen at the state convention in May. The other candidates, Mrs. Albert J. Pohlman, secretary of I. F. W. C., and Mrs. T. C. Creager, now state chairman of resolutions and revisions, both of whom are from Chicago; are also invited to be our guests. The club women will be fortunate in having the opportunity of meeting all of these, all of whom are forward-looking, experienced club women, personally charming, and devoted to furthering the work of the clubs throughout the state.

Mrs. Dry, state vice-president for the northern region, is also Thirteenth district parliamentarian, and formerly president of the district, will also give a message. Mrs. Dry is already well-known to all and has long been a leader in Federation work.

Mrs. Thompson, now in office as district president, was one of the founders of her home club, the Compton Woman's club, which she served as president for ten years; she was president of the Lee County Federation three years, then served on the District Board as Chairman of Education and as Chairman of Legislation, and is now completing her term as district president.

In the interest of the new Federation War Service project, the building of a loan fund for three-year nurse scholarships and to emphasize nurse recruiting, a beautiful motion picture, "R. N.—Serving All Mankind" prepared and loaned by the Director of Public Education for the Wesley Memorial hospital, T. E. Allen, will be shown at the afternoon session of the convention.

Special music will be presented by Richard E. McGowan of Amboy, pianist, a combined chorus of club choruses members, directed by Miss Ruth Caughey, district music chairman; and, at the banquet session, a concert by the Rochelle Woman's club chorus. Also in the evening the Ashton juniors will present a short play.

Mrs. J. H. Hughes, president of the Amboy Woman's club, is chairman of the convention program committee. Other members of the committee are: Mrs. Peter Dietz of Rock Falls, newly-elected president of Whiteside County Federation; Mrs. J. Kenneth Rice of Sterling, district War Service chairman; Miss Ruth Caughey of Morrison, chairman of music; and Miss Rose Murtaugh of the Amboy Junior Woman's club; Mrs. James L. Hopkins, Sterling.

The reports of the work of fifty-three clubs, as summarized and presented by the chairmen of the county presidents, will be a source of information and inspiration. They will show that not only have the clubs accomplished a great deal of special war work, which is the greatest concern at the moment, but that the regular community and federation work has increased in the year just past.

SCOUT LEADERS WILL MEET FOR SUPPER

A scramble supper will be held Tuesday evening, April 27, at 6:15 for the Scout Leaders Association, in the west room of the Community building. Wendell Drummond will show moving pictures. All leaders are urged to attend for Miss Grace Ritson, executive secretary of the Girl Scouts, has an important question to bring before them.

DOCTORS HELP
The committee in charge of the Summer Round-Up at the North Central school wish to thank the following doctors for their cooperation and service: Drs. Lesage, Moore, White, Lund, and Evans. It was with much satisfaction that this project has been such a successful one.

Elaine Schuttler Is Training in Daytona Beach

Auxiliary Corps began for Auxiliary Elaine M. Schuttler, of 1016 West Second street, of this city, when she arrived at the Second WAAC Training Center at Daytona Beach, Florida to begin her basic military training.

Her first three days were spent in "Tent City", a settlement of 80 canvas tops bordering the Halifax river. During this period she was given a physical examination, issued her uniform and equipment and interviewed and classified for her assignment to the army job that will release a soldier for combat duty.

Auxiliary Schuttler was then transferred to the cantonment area, a 600-acre tract developed for the initial training of WAAC troops. Assigned to a training company which numbers 150 women, she is billeted in a pine barracks and is getting accustomed to sleeping on a canvas army cot.

A WAAC's day begins with reveille call at 5:45 a. m. From 8 to 4:30 each day she attends classes where she is acquainted with army methods and procedures which she will need to know before she replaces a man in a military job. Not all the emphasis is on books, however; close order drill and physical training have their place in the daily schedule.

For most WAACs the high spots of the day come with mess call and mail call. Biggest thrill of the week is the formal review on Saturday mornings when the troops pass before distinguished guests.

Auxiliary Schuttler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Schuttler, 1016 West Second street.

BIBLE CLASS MEETS

The Woman's Bible class of the Methodist church had its monthly meeting at the church, Tuesday evening, April 20, and it was well attended with a good program carried out. Mrs. Shawger gave the devotion and Mrs. Mary Deutsch gave a very interesting program on "Memories of James Whitcomb Riley," with special music by Mrs. Satterlee and Mrs. Crawford Thomas.

Refreshments were served by the committee and a little gift was presented to Mrs. Tibbetts who is to leave Dixon soon to make her home in Iowa.

D. A. R. Warns on Loose Talk; Ends Congress

The 52nd continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution, smallest in recent years because of the war, came to an end yesterday with at least three cities actively seeking the 1944 conclave.

One of the final acts of some 1,200 delegates was to empower the national board of management to arrange for next year's meeting without consultation with the membership.

New York, St. Louis and Kansas City were bidding.

A second resolution, adopted unanimously, commended the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Army and Navy Intelligence services for their campaigns directed at cautiousness.

"So-called harmless remarks in conversation and correspondence may quickly become valuable information to waiting fifth columnists and axis sympathizers," the resolution said.

A final war bond purchase rally, shortly before the final fall of the gavel, was expected to bring the convention total of pledges well above $2,000,000.

With a final work of caution to members of their society and to all citizens against loose talk which might give information to fifth columnists, delegates of the 52nd continental congress of the Daughters of the Americans Revolution retired the colors from the hall of mirrors in the Netherlands Plaza hotel.

The closing session of the four day war projects meeting saw the installation with impressive ceremony of 18 state regents, one of whom was Mrs. J. Defore Richards of Chicago, who succeeds Mrs. Otto H. Crist as Illinois regent. Neighboring states inducting new leaders were Indiana, with Mrs. J. Harold Grimes of Danville taking office, and Michigan, conferring its regency upon Miss Laura Clark Cook of Hillside. Seven vice presidents general and three honorary presidents general and three honorary presidents general who were elected yesterday also were inducted.

Schoenholtz, Mrs. Glen Buzard, the Misses Lydia Denison, Mable Stultz, Avis Harvey and the guests were, Mrs. Clara Harvey, Mrs. Frank Sleasman, Miss Dorothy Harvey and Miss Jen Flanagan. Mrs. Woodridge will be the next hostess.

COMMUNITY CLUB

During the meeting the club decided to have a luncheon sale for the next meeting, which will be held on May 19, at the home of Mrs. Carl Blum at 12 o'clock. A white elephant sale will be held after the luncheon.

Mrs. Charles Kreger and Mrs. William Sauer won the prizes for the afternoon's games. Mrs. Jesse Lautzenheiser, and Mrs. Amy Wolfgram were Mrs. Spangler's co-hostesses.

Activity-Packed Days Give Women New Sparkle and Spirit

SENORA MARTINS: she keeps herself busy

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Keeping busy is the secret of being happy. Pack your day full of activity, and you'll find that by the time you're ready for bed you haven't had a single moment to fret about petty problems.

Women, such as the noted sculptress Senora Maria Martins, wife of the Brazilian ambassador to the United States, whose work is so vitally interesting that they hate to spend a single hour away from it, have an aliveness and charm which immediately captivates everyone who meets them.

One of the busiest women in Washington, Senora Martins divides her time three ways—as the mother of three young daughters, official hostess at the many Embassy affairs and working long hours in her art studio on a group of vigorous bronze figures inspired by native legends of her country.

And all the artificial beauty devices in the world couldn't create the sparkle and spirit which this very full life gives her.

Why not find yourself a fascinating outside interest—something entirely different from your usual run of daily activities—and just see if you aren't more contented than you've ever been.

At the Coffee House on Galena avenue Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mitchell were entertaining teachers of the South Central school, and Supt. and Mrs. A. H. Lancaster with a turkey dinner. Small favors were made of eggs with a red bandana for a cap and a blackened face, sitting in a nest of cotton, transformed an egg into a great likeness of a negro mammy.

After the dinner party, the guests and Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell were invited to the home of Supt. and Mrs. Lancaster for the rest of the evening.

MRS. CHARLES R. WALGREEN IS HOSTESS TO PHIDIAN ART CLUB AT BEAUTIFUL HAZELWOOD

Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen was hostess Tuesday afternoon at her beautiful Hazelwood estate to the Phidian Art club which had as its guest speaker, Rafael Perez, from Chicago.

Mrs. W. A. McNichols, president of the Phidian Art club, presided and introduced Mrs. Goodsell, who gave a report on her visit to the Conference of Club presidents. The program was then turned over to Mrs. George Bort, program chairman, who introduced Senor Perez, who came highly recommended by the Mexican consul at Chicago. Senor Perez is director of the Pan American Radio hour which is broadcast each Saturday at 4 o'clock, over station WEDC.

To open his talk, Senor Perez said that he would divide it into three parts. First, "Art in Mexico," second, "Mexico and Its Problems," and last, "The Meaning of Pan Americanism."

Senor Perez stated that he is a Mexican citizen, and a product of the revolution, which began back in 1910, and that it is still going on, but that the bloodshed part of it is over. His father and a brother were both killed in the revolution, and it was then that his mother brought him and his brother to the United States to be educated.

He is a friend to Franklin D. Roosevelt and a great admirer of his, and thinks that the Good-Neighbor policy of the United States, the finest idea that has ever been promulgated for our country and all of the Latin countries. "But of course," he says, "some of them do not trust the United States yet, because of the things they have done in the past." Senor Perez also thinks that the Mexican Indian will be as great an asset to his country as the Spaniard, if he is given the opportunity.

During the last part of Senor Perez talk, he answered questions that the guests wished to ask. He also told his listeners of many of the great names of the Republic of Mexico.

After adjourning all of the guests were invited to "The Cabin" on Mrs. Walgreen's estate for tea. Mrs. McNichols and Mrs. H. C. Warner poured. The guests then strolled through the grounds of the estate and found that spring, "is just around the corner," for daffodils and scylla were showing their colorful blossoms.

HOME BUREAU UNIT

The evening unit of the Dixon Home Bureau met at the home of Mrs. George Holland, Tuesday evening. Miss Simpson gave the major lesson, on "Cooking Tender Cuts of Meat." The minor lesson for this meeting was given by Mrs. Holland on, "Fire Hazards of the Community."

Pitching Dominate Opening Games in Baseball Leagues

All Four Games Played Wednesday Resulted in Shutouts

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

If opening day in the major leagues was any criterion, this may be the greatest pitchers' year in baseball history.

Four games, four shutouts, two of them 1-0, one of them 11 innings!

Weather conditions permitted only half of the eight scheduled inaugural games to be played yesterday, and held down attendance at these contests to 55,021 fans, but classic pitching made the day worth remembering.

Looking at the day's business in composite there was a total of only 11 runs, 42 hits of which just nine were for more than one base, and up till the seventh inning there had been but three runs scored.

The most magnificent mound show was given the largest crowd, 27,709 at Crosley Field in Cincinnati, where lefty Johnny Vander Meer and Mort Cooper dueling for 11 innings before the Reds finally squeezed in front of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals 1-0.

Vander Meer, who

Mrs. Charles Ferguson, the former Mary Margaret Short and Miss Clara Rose Wilmarth were Chicago visitors over the week end.

Mrs. Faye Waggoner received word Wednesday from her son Hugh Farrell, who has completed his basic training with the U. S. Signal corps.

Mrs. S. O. Garard returned home Tuesday after spending a month in Tucson, Ariz.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ely spent the week end with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bradford in Rockford.

Coe-Clearwater

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Coe are announcing the marriage of their daughter Frances to Oliver H. Clearwater, which took place at the Methodist parsonage in Kahoka, Mo., Sunday evening, April 11.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Christenson of Oregon. The bride wore a medium blue suit. She is a junior of Oregon high school.

The groom is serving in the U. S. Navy and has been stationed at Camp Endicott, R. I. and returned to his base Saturday. This week he left for service overseas.

Summer Cottages Rent Control To Be Lifted

Washington, April 22—(AP)—Summer cottages will be exempted shortly from Office of Price Administration rent control, authoritative sources said today.

The exemption will not apply to homes lived in the year-round and sub-let to vacationists during the summer months.

Only cottages that are "purely and exclusively seasonal in character" will be freed from rent limits from June 1 to Sept. 30, this year, these sources said.

Cottage owners will be able to charge any amount of rent they wish, but it was pointed out that gasoline rationing would cut down the normal supply of vacationists.

—During vacation Westbrook Pegler has been greatly missed by the readers of The Telegraph. He is back again—and his column, Fair Enough, will be found on page 4.

Some Sidelights on Fighting in Tunisia

By HAROLD V. BOYLE

With the AEF in Tunisia, April 22—(AP)—The loneliest feeling at the front is to lie at night waiting for an enemy to unload. The minute is magnified because the enemy is unseen. There is only the throbbing of the engine.

Then the darkness is split by flares. The soldiers feel in that glare like a fly on a pin. Actually the raider can detect no life below him unless it moves, but that is small comfort at the moment.

The slowly falling flares are but beacons for the bombs to follow. The bomb fins emit a whistling scream, then they crash and dissolve in a searing metal spray of death.

Then, to catch the unwary soldier who leaves his cover too soon, smaller bombs are dropped in a metal, cigar-shaped case which falls apart in midair, sending 24 yellow canisters spinning down like so many tomato cans. They detonate, showering scores of tony missiles. Those which do not explode provide a ticklish disposal problem, for sometimes the slightest jar will touch them off.

American infantrymen learned to expect Germans where they least thought to find them during the 22-day battle of El Guettar, a victory which proved conclusively that Uncle Sam has foot soldiers able to outfight the best of the axis.

The ever-tricky nazis would return at night to the battlefield to set up observation posts or gun emplacements in their knocked out armoured vehicles.

"They try to fool you all the time," said one doughboy. "We've even had to boost them out of our own burned out tanks. Those babies are always looking for some easy way to do you in, but they can sure slug when the have to. This fight was a good thing for us, though, because we found out the German and Italian infantry soldiers aren't any world beaters. They were tough but we took them and next time we come against them they won't be as bad. It's always simpler to whip a guy a second time."

Members of the American ground forces who visited the Sousse waterfront came away with new respect for the allied airforce.

None of the villages subjected to months of artillery shelling during the seesaw fighting had been reduced to the ruin wrought at Sousse.

The harbor was littered with the hulks of broken ships and for blocks around few buildings were left standing.

PLANT "DIABETES"

Corn plants are sometimes afflicted with "plant diabetes." They form too much sugar in their tissues and growth is seriously impaired as a result.

LARGEST ICE CRYSTALS

Ice crystals sometimes 18 inches across are found in caves of the Ural Mountains of Russia. They are said to be the largest in the world.

ANCIENT CONSCRIPTION

One-third of the able-bodied men in the entire Chinese Empire were conscripted by Emperor Shih Hwang Ti to help build the Great Wall.

Fish Chowder

2 lbs. haddock or other solid white meat fish 6 medium potatoes, peeled and sliced

3 medium onions
1/2 lb. fat salt pork
1 1/2 quarts heated milk
Cutfish in large pieces and cook in salted water until skin and bones can be removed without breaking the fish too much. Try out the diced salt pork, add sliced onions and cook until lightly browned. Pour off most of the fat, add fish water and diced potatoes. Cook until potatoes are soft. Add heated milk and fish and simmer ten to fifteen minutes. Correct seasoning and serve with a sprinkling of paprika on top.

Ginger Cream Roll

18 thin ginger wafers
1 pint sour cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons powdered sugar
Flavor the sour cream with vanilla and powdered sugar. (You may like more sugar than is suggested here.) Spread one side of one cookie with the cream mixture, place another beside it and spread, standing them on end. Continue until all cookies are gone. There will be cream left over. Hold this. Put the roll into the refrigerator and chill for three hours. Just before serving, mask the roll with the remaining flavored cream. Serve cut diagonally so that each serving has a striped appearance.

Meat Balls

In Sour Cream Sauce
3/4 lb. chopped beef
1/2 cup whole wheat bread crumbs
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper
1 egg
Mix all above ingredients with wet hands and a light touch. Form into four patties. Sear rapidly on both sides in a little hot fat and cover with the following sauce:
2 medium onions, sliced paper thin 1/2 lb. mushrooms
1/2 pint sour cream
3 tablespoons fat

Saute onions in 2 tablespoons fat over moderate flame until soft and slightly browned. Peel, stem and slice mushrooms (retaining peelings and stems to make soup) and saute in 1 tablespoon fat 3 minutes. Add mushrooms and onions, together with scrapings from both pans, and sour cream to meat patties. Be sure that the cream is well mixed with the drippings. Let all simmer for at least 15 minutes so that flavors may be absorbed.

Date Froth

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon sherry (optional)
12 dates
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water. Cool until syrupy. Place in a bowl of cracked ice and beat with a rotary egg beater until fluffy and thick. Add sherry, if desired. Put the dates and chop them coarsely. Fold into mixture. Turn into a mold and chill until firm.

Vegetable Plate

1 bunch beets
1 bunch carrots
3 lbs. spinach or kale
4 potatoes
4 eggs (optional)
Cook each of the vegetables separately and arrange servings attractively on individual plates. If you wish, make nests of the spinach or kale and place a poached egg on each. Boil the potatoes in their skins, cut them in half, but do not peel them for serving. Put a bit of margarine and a dash of paprika on each.

Steamed Fig Pudding

1 cup flour
1/4 cup molasses
1/2 cup milk
1 cup figs, sliced

1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon clove
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons fat
Melt fat. Add molasses and milk. Mix dry ingredients, but do not sift. Add to first mixture and stir until smooth. Add figs. Fill mold two thirds full with mixture. Cover tightly and steam two hours.

Lemon Sauce

1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon salt (scant)
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Grated rind of 1/2 lemon
Dash of nutmeg
Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt and gradually add boiling water, stirring constantly until mixture boils. Boil 5 minutes. Remove from fire and add remaining ingredients.

Fried Chicken With Cream Gravy
2 1/2-3 lb. frying chicken
Pepper
1 teaspoon salt
Flour for dredging
Bacon fat
1/2 cup boiling water
Have the chicken jointed for frying. Wipe with a damp cloth. Mix flour, salt and pepper; put on chicken. Fry quickly in bacon fat. When the chicken is golden brown pour in the water, cover tightly and simmer over a low flame until thoroughly cooked (about 3/4 hour). Add more water, if necessary. When chicken is just about done, pour in a pint of rich milk or thin cream, correct seasonings, simmer 15 minutes.

Whole Wheat Biscuits

1/2 cup flour

1/2 cup whole wheat flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons shortening
Milk
Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening. Add enough milk to form a soft dough. Knead very lightly. Then roll 1/2 inch thick and cut with a floured cutter. Bake at 450 degrees for 12-15 minutes.

Jellied Carrot and Radish Ring

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup carrots, shredded
1/2 cup radishes, sliced thin 1/2 cup hot water
1/2 cup cold water
1 tablespoon vinegar

Dissolve gelatin in hot water, add cold water and vinegar. Cool, and when it begins to thicken fold in vegetables. Pour into a ring mold and chill in refrigerator until set. Unmold on a bed of lettuce and serve with Blue Cheese Dressing.

Blue Cheese Dressing

6 tablespoons salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
Salt and pepper to taste
1/4 Blue cheese

Beat the oil into the vinegar and add seasonings. Then crumble the cheese an stir in. Bring this to the table in a separate bowl, to be served after the ring is cut into individual portions.

Fried Liverwurst

3/4 lb. liverwurst, sliced
Flour

Bacon fat
2 medium onions, sliced thin
Fry the onions in the bacon fat. Dip the liverwurst slices lightly in flour and fry them on each side until lightly browned. Serve the slices, surrounded by fried onions.

Braised Celery

1 bunch celery
Fat
g cup boiling water
Salt to taste
Pinch of saffron
Cut the celery stalks in three-inch lengths, removing the leaves. Wash and dry thoroughly. Saute in fat, over a low flame until browned on all sides, stirring occasionally. Add water, salt and saffron, cover and simmer for 15 minutes.

Launching Bombers for Raid on Japan Tricky Business

(Editor's note: Jack Rice, Associated Press staff photographer, has been in the thick of much of the naval action in the Pacific, and has recorded events of the war first hand with both camera and typewriter. He left San Francisco for the war zone shortly after the start of hostilities and was the only civilian photographer with the aircraft carrier Hornet when that ship carried Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's fliers into Japanese waters for their historic raid on Tokyo.)

By JACK RICE
With the U. S. Fleet Somewhere in the Pacific, April 18, 1942 (Delayed)—(AP)—High explosives and incendiary bombs from U. S. Army B-25 (Mitchell) bombers dropped on a surprised Japan shortly after noon today.

These heavily-laden, twin-engined bombers were launched on their mission of terror and destruction from the aircraft carrier Hornet 800 miles east of Tokyo.

There was a heavy sea running and salt spray from the huge waves was shipping over the ships of our task force.

About 7:45 a. m. one of our cruisers sighted a small Japanese patrol boat some 25,000 yards to port of our ship. A light cruiser immediately went to intercept and sink the enemy ship. The operation took but a few minutes. The cruiser fired with such rapidity she seemed to be a mass of flames.

The "spitkit," as Navy men call Japanese patrol boats, sank before any of the men board could be saved.

The launching of the bombers from the restricted flight deck of the carrier went off with clock-like regularity, the entire operation taking less than an hour.

Took Highest Skill
It took flying skill of the highest degree to lift the heavy bombers into the gray overcast and find the targets, but it was accomplished without a hitch.

We left port without knowing our destination or mission, as usual. But we knew we were out for something big.

A couple of nights before we arrived at our destination, I was back in the chiefs' quarters listening to the Tokyo propaganda broadcast. The announcer was holding forth with a long spiel about how the Japanese could feel perfectly safe from the bombings which were ravaging most of Asia because their main enemies, the Americans, had no bases from which to carry out a raid.

There was an immediate chorus of razzberries from the chiefs. "That's what you think, Bud," one yelled with a wide grin.

Immediately after launching the bombers, we turned and headed back out of range of Japanese retaliation. Early in the afternoon we came in contact with another small enemy patrol boat, which the same light cruiser dispatched with the same easy speed as that encountered during the morning.

may be because it exhibits a state of mind we had hoped Mr. Roosevelt had put behind him. Perhaps readers may recall the address he delivered at Franklin field, Philadelphia, June 26, 1936, when he accepted renomination. That remarkable utterance did not lift the flag of liberalism. It hoisted the Jolly Roger of class hatred.

Since that time, and more particularly since the outbreak of the war, the president has said less about "economic royalists", but manifestly he has not buried his old animosities. Nor has he abandoned special pleading, but he has been outmaneuvered. He disregards the hard logic of taxation when he complains that the salaries of some are not cut at a time when the income of a vast majority of Americans is increasing. If this is Mr. Roosevelt's temper now what may we not expect of him when the war is over?

Any pictures appearing in The Dixon Telegraph, taken by our staff photographer can be purchased at small cost.

"BRIDES-ALES"
The old English custom of holding "brides-ales" gave us our modern word "bridal." Brides-ales were wedding festivals at which the bride served ale to the guests and received presents in return.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start aching backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.
